Furry Friends Food Bank

The Furry Friends Food Bank provides supplemental pet food and supplies to low-income seniors who struggle to feed their companion animals.

Seniors with pets typically live longer, happier, and less stressful lives.

The number one goal of the FFFB is to keep local seniors and pets together.

Why FFFB is important:

Because their pets are the only regular contact many of the seniors in our area receive, some have been willing to sacrifice their own nutritional needs in an effort to not surrender their furry companion.

We take special pride in helping to prevent this.

How you can help:

The Furry Friends Food Bank is supported entirely by donations, and is always accepting financial donations. Pet food and supplies, particularly cat food and cat litter may also be donated to the program.
